FACULTY

Dr. Lynn Stevenson is an Associate Clinical Professor of Pharmacy Practice and Executive Director of Experiential Programs within Clinical Affairs and Outreach.

She grew up in southern middle Tennessee and received a full scholarship to play basketball at Auburn University (1986-91). A four-year letter winner with the Auburn women's basketball team, she helped the Tigers to three-straight NCAA Final Fours from 1988-90. Stevenson completed a B.S. in Pharmacy in 1992 and Doctor of Pharmacy in 1994 from Auburn University. Following graduation, she completed an ASHP-accredited Pharmacy Practice Residency at The Medical Center in Columbus, Georgia. She is a Board-Certified Pharmacotherapy Specialist.

She has practiced as a clinical pharmacy specialist for Huntsville Hospital System in Huntsville, Alabama and as a Clinical Pharmacist for Columbus Regional Healthcare System in Columbus, Georgia. Prior to joining the faculty of HSOP in January 2007, she served the previous four years as Outpatient Clinical Pharmacy Coordinator for Columbus Regional Healthcare System.

FACULTY CONT'D

Lena D. McDowell is an Assistant Clinical Professor in the Department Pharmacy Practice and the Coordinator of Introductory Pharmacy Practice Experiences (IPPE) in the Clinical Affairs and Outreach Division at the Harrison School of Pharmacy. Her role as Coordinator of IPPE includes the Student Experiences in Pharmacy Services (StEPS) Program and community, institutional, and clinical summer rotation experiences. Additionally, she serves as an ambulatory care clinician in the AU Employee Pharmacy. Dr. McDowell joined the Auburn faculty in August of 2017.

A native of Snowdoun, Alabama, McDowell received her Bachelor of Science in Biomedical Sciences in 2010 and a Doctor of Pharmacy degree in 2016 from Auburn University. She went on to complete a PGY-1 Community Pharmacy Residency at the University of Mississippi School of Pharmacy during the 2016-17 academic year.

An active member of the Alabama Pharmacy Association (APA) and American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy (AACP), her areas of focus include experiential education and comprehensive medication management, specifically medication adherence.

Amber M. Hutchison, Pharm.D., BCPS is an Associate Clinical Professor at Auburn University Harrison School of Pharmacy on the Auburn campus. Dr. Hutchison received her Pharm.D. from Auburn University Harrison School of Pharmacy in 2007. In 2008, she completed her PGY-1 residency at Indian River Medical Center in Vero Beach, Florida, and continued to practice at IRMC as a clinical pharmacist until she joined the faculty at Auburn in 2011.

Dr. Hutchison is a Board-Certified Pharmacotherapy Specialist and is a Board-Certified Geriatric Specialist. She is the consultant pharmacist for the Skilled Nursing Facility at East Alabama Medical Center. She provides medication regimen reviews and participates in a multi-disciplinary team to provide care to patients admitted for rehabilitation services. This service is also an internal medicine learning site for introductory pharmacy practice experiences, advanced pharmacy practice experiences, and PGY-1 residents.

Within the School, Dr. Hutchison teaches in Integrated Learning Experiences in the first, second, and third professional year. Additionally, she coordinates the skills laboratory experiences for the third professional year. She is also a part of the team integrating sterile compounding education throughout the curriculum.
